We learn that the dissensions among the sham democracy of this State are growing quite bitter, independent of the growing difficulties which beset the "alliance" The Presidential question is at the bottom of much hard feeling, as between the Pierce and the Buchanan men the "ins" and the "outs," but aside from this there are troubles about the disposition of the State offices. Waldo is "bleeding again, and it is rumored that Col Smart, who has been unquestionably one of the most active and energetic supporters of the present fusion State government, feels himself outraged at some of the appointments in that county—have withdrawn all his recommendations,—and given Governor Wells to understand that he asks no more favors of him or of his administration. He is also down, in his paper, upon the "alliance" as heretofore existing—declaring that the Straits cannot and shall not longer belong to "the party," if they don't openly step on to what he calls the "democratic platform He says they cannot longer be allowed to play fast and loose about Kansas matters, but must unreservedly endorse the President's views on the Kansas and slavery question. If they do not, he says they shall be cast adrift The alliance cannot go on as an alliance any longer The Straits must come into the ranks of the sham democracy, or go adrift. We shall give some extracts from the last leader in the Free Press

FREE LABOR SUGAR JAMAICA AGAIN PROSPEROUS We see a paragraph in the papers, stating that the sugar crop of Jamaica this present year is 50,000 hhds greater than ever before (probably greater than since the abolition of slavery) This is attributed to "Yankee" having taken the management of several of the largest sugar estates In working they employ negroes at so much per day, paying in cash every week The cash wakes up the best energies of the sable laborers, and gives a life never before seen or heard of to the sugar making business Cuba and our southern States are likely to have, in a few years, an opportunity to compare, side by side, on every way equal terms, the advantages of free and slave labor Our southern planters will do well to study this "Yankee management closely, They might find its adoption profitable to themselves.

VILLAINOUS ASSAULT —On Saturday evening last, Mr. Moses L. Averill of the firm of Averill & Moore, stable-keepers was assaulted and beaten so severely that he was left for some time in an insensible condition The circumstances, as they have been related to us, were as follows

Mr Averill was escorting two ladies home from Mr Bartlett's bookstore on Exchange St., and while going up Morse's Hill, a young man came up behind them, in company with a well known girl of the town. Mr Averill and the ladies gave them opportunity to pass, but they did not do so Soon afterwards the girl began to address vulgar and insolent language to them, and finally took Mr A by the arm He shook her off, whereupon her companion struck him and knocked him over Mr A recovered himself, and a scuffle took place, during which two other young men came up, and the three assaulted and beat Mr A in a serious manner striking him with their fists and also as supposed with some sharp instrument, as his cheek and forehead were badly cut

On Monday before the Municipal Court, John Thomas, Felix McKenney and John McAnna were brought up for examination upon charge of the above assault McAnna was discharged, and the other two held in $100 bonds, for further examination on Wednesday In the meantime, we presume, the case will be laid before the grand jury, now in session

While speaking of this case of rowdyism and violence, we may mention that Mr Smith, a quiet and peaceable man in the employ of Messrs Hinkley & Egery, was knocked down on Exchange Street, one evening last week, without any provocation whatever—and on another occasion Mr. Peavey a respectable man from out of town, was treated in the same manner

The weather was milder yesterday than it has been before for seven weeks For the first time in fifty consecutive days, the snow thawed a little in our streets. Nevertheless, the winter has been more tolerable with us, than at the west and south.

There were indications of rain last night.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The undersigned by suggestion of the Mayor and Aldermen, would make to the public a statement of the number of small pox cases in our city, in order to allay the fears of citizens excited by exaggerated rumors, and to convince those who resort to the city from adjoining towns for trade and other purposes, that there is perfect safety in their continuing to do so.

At the present time, there are but four cases of small pox in the city, and two or three cases of varioloid These cases are all mild in their form, and will without doubt recover Proper precautions have been taken to isolate the families of such as are sick, and no apprehensions need be felt lest the disease should be communicated from them

The value of vaccination has of late been happily demonstrated in the escape of the many, and the mildness of the symptoms in the few that contracted varioloid There is no excuse for parents neglecting to have their children vaccinated, when so many opportunities offer for obtaining the pure vaccine virus. In spite of any kind or amount of feeling to the contrary, vaccination is a duty, the accomplishing of which every parent owes to his child

Exciting Scenes of the Final Struggle for the Speakership.

The correspondent of the New York Times gave so graphic and stirring an account of the scenes at Washington during the last days of the great contest, that we copy a large portion of it, to the exclusion of some other matter The writer is filled to the brim with natural exultation at the success of the phalanx of freedom over a hitherto invincible foe

THE SCENES ATTENDANT UPON THE STRUGGLE

But I must try to give you a faint idea of the scenes attendant upon this momentous struggle On Friday, when the South Americans stampeded, and went in a body almost for Mr Aiken, many of our friends became alarmed I did not share in the panic. I believed it to be a desperate game of "brag" on the part of our opponents, intended to frighten us into disgraceful surrender just as the opposition had disgraced itself by taking down its candidates and dropping its principles by the wayside A dozen Anti-Nebraska "caucuses" were held on Friday night. Many of the most resolute on our side of the House boldly resisted the panic, and it was determined that, come weal or woe, our colors should never be struck.—that rather than yield in fact the exponent of the Anti Nebraska sentiment, on whom our force had been concentrated so long, in the faint hope of getting a little numerical strength by yielding to the defection of half a dozen men who have never been healthily with us—our brave bark should go down in the channel The result has gloriously vindicated the wisdom of this determination.

AN OMINOUS LOOK.

The sun rose yesterday morning on some hundreds of anxious men A the levees on the previous evening, the Freedmen had congratulated Mr Aiken on the vote he had received, and expressed the hope that he would, next day, be able to congratulate him as Speaker of the House. This was soon in everybody's mouth. It looked ominous—and still more so when it was stated, later in the day, that the President was in a Committee room at the Capitol, ready to aid, in any way in his power, to secure the election of a gentleman whose chief element of strength, as was clearly intimated when he was put in nomination by Mr Cobb, was, that he was an Anti Administration man' But whatever appliances and promises the Executive had at his disposal, the expense even to an enemy, to secure the chief end of bolstering up and completing the Slave-oratic tomb erected for his own sepulture, have all failed him The enemy were generally confident in the morning, and whispered significantly to each other stars They went to the House to see the Anti-Nebraska men pass the plurality rule, and get swindled out of it Our friends were grave They generally knew their strength, and had no fear for the result,—but they were fearful that these opponents would get the hint, and do not let them have the plurality resolution at all. Their anxiety upon this point happily was mistaken for the presence of delegates.

SOMEBODY IN DANGER OF GETTING INTO A TRAP

The trap looked all right The poor deluded Anti-Nebraska men were evidently anxious to put their foot in it,—and why shouldn't they be gratified? Tennessee offered the plurality. Our friends were compelled to vote for it, of course, as they had sustained it so often already Well, they went in and they carried it, by a majority of nine only—every South American and all the stragglers voting against it. Mr Orr, of South Carolina, arose and with drew his name from the canvass unconditionally and cast his mantle on Mr. Aiken Just here

SOMEBODY SMELLS A RAT

South Carolina began to smell a very large rat The fight was getting into close quarters, and these cavalry didn't want to face the fire just yet Mr Boyce, who an hour before was very confident moved to rescind the plurality resolution, which motion was laid on the table by sixteen majority Here Mr. Jones of Tennessee, one of the shrewdest tacticians of his party took the alarm. He wanted to adjourn the fight to prepare for the contest,—for it was evident, he said, that one party would rifle for the occasion and the other went to That's good, too that—the reconstructed Democracy calling out for a parley until they could drink a little for the close encounter with raw whiskey as never marched together before they met to the Representative Hall! Ha! Ha! No matter—Jones was right, as he always is in any game of party tactics—but only eighty-two of his comrades thought so, and so we held them to their position

SOMEBODY ELSE SMELLS A RAT

SOMEBODY BOTTOMS

Alabama next faltered in the line and "coaxed" in face of the enemy Percy Walker wanted to recess, and moved that the plurality rule be rescinded This the House decided to be out of order, and Percy fell

SOMETHING INFLAMMABLE

North Carolina soon hung out a flag of truce Tar and turpentine thought the fire was getting rather hot for such combustible material, and Mr Paine moved an adjournment, which was lost the announcement of this result was hailed with much applause from the galleries

ANOTHER RALLY

Well the accumulation of faction was about exhausted We had got the enemy up to the bank of one of Buena Vista's gorges and the fire opened. The first and second ballots, under the plurality resolution, were taken, and Banks was nine ahead Missouri got scared now, Mr Bennett moved a retreat under cover of an adjournment, but the troops wouldn't attend the order, and after another shot from the galleries the third ballot was taken. Mr Aiken falling off one vote This time it was Arkansas which Winchester and Rust wanted to run, but only fifty two of his comrades would agree to go with him

A RUSTY GUN FIRES TO GO OWN.

SOMEBODY RETREATS, AND FIRES A SCATTERING SHOT.

Mr Fuller of Pennsylvania, here looked about him, saw that his battalion was cut all to pieces, and that the next fire would certainly reduce it to half a dozen men, and so he told these to take care of themselves—that he was not an officer any longer I regret to say that he did not die gracefully His last words were that a hundred and thirty ballots would have satisfied him that he was not the choice of a majority of the House, and that upon no other terms would he consent to take that position. He probably intended to insult nobody but Mr Banks, but he forgot that his reflection was just as applicable to Hon Howell Cobb, who occupied the chair for two years under operation of the plurality resolution, and also to Mr Aiken, who was ready to accept the chair, and to every Democrat who was ready to elevate him thereto under the same rule

THE TRAP SPRINGS

The final charge was now made, amid breathless anxiety and the most intense excitement The one hundred and thirty-third ballot was now taken—the one which must decide the contest When his name was called, Mr Barclay of Kent, a Democrat, who had generally voted with his party from the beginning, but had not voted for Aiken, rose to speak The Democrats listened, for they thought he was about to release his caving into the party pit with a few words of excuse Not so He said, he saw no reason why he should change the record he had made. He had, from the first to the last, been averse to anything that looked like a coalition with Know Nothingism, whether it came from the North or from the South Before he voted again, he wanted to know of Mr. Aiken whether he had made pledges satisfactory to the American part and Mr. Rust seeding, but I Mr Aiken and for the Speakership he made rogatory

The fact was the assurance had never opp ican Party, and not He could be wisely as lost Mr Barcla not have got if

EDITH,
The Quaker's Daughter,
A TALE OF PURITAN TIMES.
BY ONE OF HER DESCENDANTS

12 mo. cloth. Price $1,25.

A more charming tale has rarely made its appearance in any country The scene is laid in Boston, at the time of the religious persecution of the Quakers by the Puritans, and this circumstance adds very great interest to a tale which does not require any such fictitious aid, but whose intrinsic qualities are sufficient to fasten the readers attention, and deeply move his sympathies, as well as enforce an admirable moral lesson.

We add a paragraph from the book itself

"The world is aware that the early history of the Quakers in New England fills a page in her records which the descendants of our Puritan ancestors would gladly seal forever from the eyes of men. The time of these occurrences is yet too recent, for justice to either party to be awarded—the consciousness of a cruel intolerance on the one hand, and the remembrance of wrong on the other, are yet too fresh in the minds of their descendants, and years must pass away before either can regard the other with impartiality But our historians and others should remember that the blot is only made deeper through attempts to excuse those deeds of cruelty by false representations of their victims, and it becomes the duty of every faithful representative of the times to depict their characters with fairness, and to do justice to the motives that influenced their conduct.

"We trust that the time is not far distant when the spirit that still characterizes New England men, especially her clergy, will give place to a more enlightened feeling of Christian brotherhood Let it be remembered that the time was, when the Quakers stood alone against abuses that are now cried down by the majority, and if their peculiarities are fast disappearing from our sight, their principles remain."

KENNEDY'S

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!

MR KENNEDY of Roxbury has discovered in the form of a common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple. He has tried it on over a hundred cases and never failed except in two. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure ringworm, one bottle will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face, three to four bottles will cure the system of blotches.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of humors in the stomach.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running in the ears and blotches in the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corruptions in the blood.

One bottle will cure all scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of itch in man.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of tetter or salt rheum.

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure saltrheum.

Five to six bottles will cure the very worst case of Scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantities are taken.

Both nights and days robbed to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the days, that a common weed growing upon the pastures, and on old rail fences and walls, would cure every humor in the system. Yet it is now a fact. If you have a humor it must start. There are no ifs nor ands about it. Nothing can save it. Three hundred bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston and knows them to be of the most extraordinary cures. It has already done some of the most remarkable cures ever known. Many children, from 1 year old to old people of sixty and upwards, can say they look children, whose flesh has soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in cases of dyspepsia and costiveness. Many have taken it and have given up all other regulated by it. Where the liver is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in four days to a week. There is never a backset from it—on the contrary when this feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

No charge of it at every necessary. Eat the best you can get and enough of it.

ROXBURY Sept 19, 1853.

This is to certify that H H HAY, Druggist, Portland, is duly AUTHORIZED GENERAL AGENT for my MEDICAL DISCOVERY for the STATE OF MAINE, and that he is supplied with the GENUINE, direct from my Laboratory.

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE.

Capt. Daniel Abbott, of Brooklin, Maine, aged 70 years, was taken sick one year ago last July 16, 1853, says he was taken sick one year ago last July 16, April, upon my passage from Havana to Charlestown. After he procured a physician to attend upon him, but for two days, and could obtain no relief, no sleep, no appetite. A friend advised him to try Hoofland's German Bitters. He immediately got a bottle, and before it was half gone he could sleep well. By the time he had taken about 10 bottles he was able to sit up a little. He continued taking the Bitters, and in about 10 days was able to walk about the house. He took in all about 16 bottles, when he was entirely restored to health, and has remained so ever since. He is now 76 years old, and is able to do a good day's work at any time. He says he would not be without Hoofland's German Bitters for any consideration, if he could not obtain any more. He has recommended them to many persons, and they have all used them with the same success. He is well known in Brooklin, and will cheerfully answer any letters of inquiry.

Extract of a letter from Daniel Adams, Esq., of Bowdoinham, Maine

BOWDOINHAM, Me., April 2, 1853.

Mr. Clark—Sir: You will please send me by the bearer, Mr. Gardiner, one bottle of Hoofland's German Bitters. My wife has been troubled with the Liver Complaint for a number of years, and has been under the treatment of a number of physicians, but has received no benefit from any of them. I have been induced to believe, from the statements of others, that your Bitters would be of service to her, and I am desirous of giving them a trial. Please forward by the bearer, and oblige yours, &c.

DANIEL ADAMS.

Mr. Clark—Dear Sir: I have used one bottle of Hoofland's German Bitters, and I am happy to say that I am much better. I have been troubled with a pain in my side for the last two years, and have had a cough for the last six or seven years, but since I have taken the Bitters I have not had a cough scarcely. I have been troubled with pain in the breast. From your obedient servant,

WILLIAM CLARK,
Salmon Brook, Aroostook Co., Me.

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable, and are offered to the public in advantages over most of the nostrums of the day, as they are a sure and safe remedy for all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach, and for all diseases for which they are recommended.

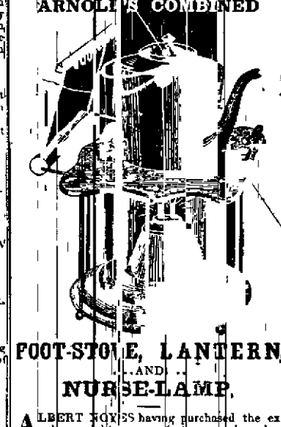
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,
...AND...
NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right of manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter night, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil alcohol or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from the air by every external object.

As a LANTERN it answers all the usual purposes and is best liked by those who have seen, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm besides giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c. it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this heat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to the intended purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854

We, the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by Dr. E. B. Hayes, of this city, and been personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the Doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy result after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c., &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article and the only one known to us as performing all it claims.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given to patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the particulars in which they have been employed, whether in town, country, hospital, or private practice they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them, have been given, but of which the result will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua if successive perfection to take up the extractive matter, and in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskilful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations. It is, therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the public and to the faculty, that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantages. To effect this, and obviate the evil alluded to, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition. The experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with much pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made. Two table spoonfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and one tea spoonful equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction as usually made.
